

What is WANAU?

WANAU is a network of university staff and students who share a common interest in improving access and equity through the creation of accessible online information and teaching materials.

Members include disability policy and support staff, technical staff, academics and students from universities all over Australia.

What are WANAU's aims?

- Raise awareness of web accessibility within our organisations
- Help our colleagues produce accessible online resources
- Influence policy and develop strategies to improve accessibility

Get involved!

- Join the WANAU mailing list, participate in discussions
- Suggest some activities, contribute ideas
- Promote and attend WANAU events
- Encourage colleagues to join WANAU
- Advocate accessible design

More info:
<http://www.wanau.org>

What is WANAU?

WANAU is a network of university staff and students who share a common interest in improving access and equity through the creation of accessible online information and teaching materials.

Members include disability policy and support staff, technical staff, academics and students from universities all over Australia.

What are WANAU's aims?

- Raise awareness of web accessibility within our organisations
- Help our colleagues produce accessible online resources
- Influence policy and develop strategies to improve accessibility

Get involved!

- Join the WANAU mailing list, participate in discussions
- Suggest some activities, contribute ideas
- Promote and attend WANAU events
- Encourage colleagues to join WANAU
- Advocate accessible design

More info:
<http://www.wanau.org>